STEBBINS COMMITMENT TO BUSINESS CONTINUITY DURING COVID-19

Considering the current coronavirus (COVID-19) outbreak, STEBBINS wants to communicate its strong commitment to the health of our employees, customers, and business partners, and to the continuity of our customers' mission-critical services.

We are closely monitoring recommendations issued by government and health organizations and have implemented work, safety, and travel policies in accordance with those guidelines.

STEBBINS has a proven track record of keeping their employees safe, as well as protecting the needs and interests of its clients. STEBBINS would like to ensure our customers, and business partners that we are taking all precautions necessary to continue our commitment to all.

We have already implemented precautionary measures at our project sites and across our offices worldwide to ensure continuity of our core business operations and our ability to support our global customer base.
